Please remember these are goals. Children learn in their own way and at their own pace. These goals are introduced to each child in the course of the year. Some will master them, some will begin to learn them and some children will not be ready to begin. We will work with each child where they are and encourage learning without pushing them. Evaluations will be sent home in December and May so that you may review the progress your child has made. These are not report cards and not an indication of everything your child has learned.
